SCOUTING

THE SHOPS with Sally

Bang, bang! (These are off-the-stage sound effects indicating that the great and glorious Fourth is here again.)

● Guess what? Lucca Ravioli is serving ice-cold chocolate milk free all day Saturday. (It's made from Carnation milk, too.) While you're there you'll probably want to stock up on their specials as well—Log Cabin syrup, 17c a can; beans, 3 pounds for 10c; melons, 3 for 10c, and any number of others.

● There are some grand specials at Vireno's, too, this week. A large box of Ritz crackers for 21c; catsup for 10c; and Crisco, 3-pound can for 51c are a few examples. Vireno's is well-known for fine liquors, as well.

● While we're announcing good news—you can have a new Crane automatic not-water heater for your home without one cent of cash outlay at the moment. See the A. M. Harrison ad on page 3 for a sensational offer.

● No week-end trip is going to be complete without some of the specials from Milo's—such as potato chips, 19c for a regular 25c package. Milo's really have some outstanding fruit and vegetable combinations too, this week. For something different, you might try fresh black cod or sweet pickled legs of pork.

● Now for some holiday suggestions. If you're bound for the beach, don't forget sun-tan oil (only 10c at Edwards), bathing caps (10c up), and sun visors, (25c). If it's a picnic, Farmers Meat have some tender picnic hams for only 24c a pound that are bound to make a hit. Incidentally, for outdoor sandwiches we know of nothing more delicious than some Swedish Knackerbrod (Rye bread) from Farmers Meat.

● For bacon and eggs to sizzle over a campfire, Robertson's Egg

D. C. Merchants Score Victory, 3 to 2

In a hard-fought game Sunday at the Jefferson Union high school grounds, Daly City Merchants scored a victory of 3 to 2 over the Seal Yankees. According to spectators, S. Lucia's steady pitching and air-tight defense made notable playing.

The Merchants play every Sunday at 2 p. m. at the high school grounds. The lineup for last Sunday included T. Lucia, Campagno, Maloney, Sloane, Krohn, Johnson, Preston, Schbach, and S. Lucia.

The Twenty-sixth district honored Auxiliary Department President Florence Chess at a party Saturday night at the Belle Monti country club.

A grand turnout of San Mateo county legion and auxiliary members was present to recognize Mrs. Chess' distinguished service to her community.

'Oomph' Girl at Daly City Theatre

ANN SHERIDAN plays enticing role in Technicolor "Dodge City."

With a cast of hundreds, topped by Errol Flynn and Olivia de Havilland, "Dodge City," Warner Brothers' Technicolor epic of the old West is now playing at the Daly City theatre. A lusty drama of the days when there was no law west of Chicago, it is crammed with thrilling action and colorful romance. Michael Curtiz, famous for his action pictures, directed from the screen story written by Robert Buckner.

Companion Picture

"Career or family," is the problem which faces Frieda Inescort in the drama, "Woman Doctor," companion picture to "Dodge City." Miss Inescort is seen in this film as a famous woman doctor, who is forced to devote so much time to her work that her husband and child are neglected. Henry Wilcoxon and Sybil Jason are seen as husband and child respectively.

Miss Rose Kiddies Awarded Cup

The Daly City Juvenile Drill team once more carried off honors for Daly City Sunday when they were awarded a large gold cup at the courthouse dedication in Redwood City. There were more than forty entries in the parade.

Composed of children ranging in age from 8 to 16 years, the team has been drilling for only two months. It is directed by Miss Rose, local dancing teacher.

Following the dedication, the team appeared by special invitation at the third annual picnic of Sunset Post No. 400, American Legion, at the Menlo Park picnic grounds.

Next appearance of the team will be on Treasure Island July 4, where they will compete for the cash prizes. June 11, the group was awarded first place on the Island in the San Mateo county day celebration.

BEAUTY FOR THE BATH

As coolly charming as a mountain lake is this matched set of shower and window curtains designed to bring summer glamour to the bathroom. Of white silk treated with a new synthetic material which scientists call koroseal, the curtains are not only water and spotproof but are impervious to mildew and will not stiffen with age. The water lillies are white with green leaves—a perfect ensemble for a summer bath room.

Terry Pin's Tips on

MOUNTAIN CLIMBING

By FREDERIC A. BIRMINGHAM

Consolidated Features, Inc.—WNU Service.

MOUNTAIN climbers are fearless. Otherwise they could not stand the way people laugh at them.

On top of a peak, the climber feels like a bird, although rarely enough to be too concerned about his feathers. There he stands, aloof, the grandeur of the view making him forget everything of the world. Just the same, he usually doesn't forget his lunch.

Mountain climbers on their way up dizzy cliffs embrace the rock to keep from falling. Rocks are notoriously unsentimental, though, and never respond to the embrace.

A mountain climber thinks only of big things. Occasionally, a loose pebble will change this state of mind.

Released by Consolidated News Features, WNU Service.

Another excellent reason for keeping the tires properly inflated is that it assures better braking, according to L. G. Evans, general service manager of the National Automobile club. A soft tire will slide or skid when the brakes are vigorously applied.

Motorists driving the Redwood highway will welcome the news of the formal opening of Hartsook's resort, according to the Eureka office of the National Automobile club. The former main building was destroyed by fire, with no damage done to the cottage. A new building containing the office and recreational hall has been completed. There has been no change in accomodation rates.

Yum Yum for 'Fair'

KNOW THYSELF
by DR. GEORGE D. GREER

WHAT IS MEANT BY THE TERM 'NERVE TENSION'?

"NERVE tension" is really not tension of the nerves at all. It is tension of body muscles. Nerves cannot become tense; but they can become overactive. If the muscles to which the nerves go are not kept in action they become tense, and thus consume much unnecessary energy. Any physical disorder, such as pain, increases this nerve activity and creates "tense nerves." Some people get in the habit of being tense, so that they cannot relax even when they have nothing to do. This habit taxes the nerves and muscles more than is healthful, and such persons should learn the art of relaxing.

Statistics Show Business Unaffected

Statistics of surveys made in the past show that only ten per cent of Bay area residents are on vacation at one time, during the period of June, July and August. This small percentage is not enough to affect business materially, and a large influx of Fair visitors this year is expected to more than offset the small difference in local sales.

Terry Pin's Tips on THE ZOO
By FREDERIC A. BIRMINGHAM

Consolidated Features, Inc.—WNU Service.

A ZOO is the place where animals are forced to look at human beings. As a result, only bars keep the animals from escaping.

An elephant's ivory tusks are very dangerous weapons. For that reason, cue ball manufacturers steer clear of the elephant's cage.

The bears are lovable fellows and look like somebody at a football game. But there is nothing to be gained by giving them an affectionate hug.

A lion's roar is a terrible thing, although hardly as bad as a whole bag of peanuts which have been roasted too much.

A camel is the ship of the desert. Both ships and camels have a sharp front and hollow insides. But there is never a masquerade on the last night out on a camel.

A. M. Harrison Shows Modern Home Bathroom

Residents of Daly City need not visit Treasure Island to see the last word in home bathroom equipment. Displayed this week in the window of A. M. Harrison, 6236 Mission street, is a Persian-red Crane bathtub which embodies the most ultra-modern in design and material.

Crane has been manufacturing these tubs for only a few weeks. So far, only two of them have reached the West coast.

Four-feet square, the swanky tub is even equipped with a comfortable seat in one corner. With other matching fixtures, it is soon to be installed at the Angelo Cabano home on Como street.

Residents are invited to see it while it is still on display this week.

JOHN DID YOU HEAR THAT PECULIAR NOISE DOWNSTAIRS? SOUNDS LIKE SOMEBODY IS PROWLING AROUND - RUN DOWN AND SEE WHAT IT IS DEAR

Mrs. Sadie Welsh, Hanover street, entertained at luncheon Wednesday at her home. Guests who enjoyed the afternoon included Mrs. A. Stadman, Mrs. R. Johnston, Mrs. A. Tejida and Mrs. E. Cavagnaro. Mrs. Stadman and Mrs. Cavagnaro were girlhood chums, pleased to renew an old acquaintance.

National forest regulations prohibit smoking on all Forest Service roads or in any place other than improved campgrounds, places of habitation or "fag stations" especially provided for the traveling public, warns the outing department of the National Automobile club. Motorists should remember that the ashtray in the car is the place for burning matches and tobacco.

Dr. Gans Plans Strict Enforcement

Due to several recent deaths in the bay area from poisoned clams, Dr. Charles C. Gans, public health officer, announces a strict enforcement in San Mateo county of the mussel quarantine set up by the State department of public health.

The order establishes a quarantine on "all mussels from the ocean shore of California from the southern boundary of Los Angeles county north to the California-Oregon boundary with the exception of the bay of San Francisco."

All health officers and food inspectors are instructed to enforce the provisions of the quarantine and to prohibit the taking, sale, or offering for sale, of mussels gathered in the district specified.

DO INTELLIGENT WOMEN DISLIKE KEEPING HOUSE?

IT IS quite erroneous to believe that the modern women are despising housekeeping, and desire only the professional careers. A survey of the courses being taken by college women shows that the courses in home economics, home decoration, home nursing, sewing, care and feeding of babies, and such courses are becoming more and more popular. Young women are more interested in homemaking today than they have ever been before, for they have so much more to attract them to this part of woman's life. They are being trained to be better wives, mothers and community workers. The more intelligent they are, the more they seem to go in for this.

store will save you money. If you're bored at picnics, why not take along a little portable radio from Byrne Radio store? And if you get grass-stain on your clothes, remember that Beeson cleaners feature free call and delivery.

● For colorful and sturdy play clothes, stop in at the Daly City Dress shop. There you will find slacks selling from $1 up and prices are low on other holiday garb.

● If you want to catch up on sleep over the holidays, why not have your mattress renovated by the Daly City Mattress company? (For that nightly glass of hot milk, don't forget that the Mission Creamery features only the finest in milk and cream).

● The Daly City theatre will be open all day Tuesday, with Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers as the Castles—topped off by Walt Disney's "Ferdinand." And if you're looking for some place to buy food at inopportune moments, see the neighborhood grocery stores listed on page 3.

● If your family likes home-canned fruit (and what family doesn't!) you will be interested to know that youngberries and loganberries are advertised for 55c a crate at the Daly City Cut-Rate Market this week, while sugar is only 47c for a ten-pound sack. (There is also an interesting sale on Wheaties).

"LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME"

by Thornton W. Burgess

THE QUEER WAY LITTLE MITE REACHED HOME

It often happens in this world,
When all seems wrong and nothing right,
The cloud that blackest seems to be
Is really nearest to the light.

THAT was just the way it was with little Mite Meadow Mouse. There he was in the pocket of Farmer Brown's boy, being carried he knew not where. Somehow he wasn't as much afraid as he might have been. You see, Farmer Brown's boy had been very gentle with him. But he was being carried away, and that seemed a very dreadful thing in itself. He felt more lost than ever. What possible chance would there be now of ever getting back home again? Farmer Brown's boy had said something about taking him home, but Mite felt sure that that home was not his home. So he cuddled down in a corner of the pocket, feeling very miserable and helpless. Things certainly did look dark.

"Caw, caw, caw!" replied Blacky in the sauciest manner.

Now Farmer Brown's boy had come down to the cornfield that morning to hoe the corn, for already the weeds were springing up between the rows. He scowled over at Blacky the Crow and his relatives, who were making a great racket on the Green Meadows. He shook his fist at them. Then he grinned, for right down in his heart he has a fondness for Blacky, in spite of the mischief he does.

"I suppose I ought not to begrudge you that corn you have pulled up," said he. "No doubt you have paid for it several times over by the grubs and worms you have eaten, but just the same you have made me a lot of extra work. Now, I've got to go way back to the house for some more seed and plant those hills all over again. I thought that scarecrow was going to fool you this spring, but I see it hasn't."

"Caw, caw, caw!" replied Blacky in the sauciest way.

Farmer Brown's boy trudged along the edge of the cornfield with his hoe on his shoulder. Thinking of the extra work he had to do because of Blacky the Crow, he quite forgot the little Meadow Mouse in his pocket. Presently he came to a pile of old cornstalks.

"I may as well leave my coat and hoe here while I go back for that seed," said he.

So he slipped off his old coat and threw it down on the pile of old cornstalks. Then off he trudged to get the seed to plant where Blacky and his relatives had pulled up the young corn. No sooner was he out of sight than Blacky and the others were back in the cornfield deep in mischief again.

Little Mite lay perfectly still for a long time listening and listening. But as he heard nothing but those noisy Crows his courage began to come back. He crept up to the opening of the pocket and peeped out. He could see nothing of the giant who had carried him off and he began to wonder in what part of the Great World he was. He crept out to look about. Then his heart gave a great jump! Somehow those cornstalks looked very familiar. Could it be? No it couldn't be! He must be dreaming! He shut his eyes for just a minute, then opened them again to make sure that he really was awake.

Just then down under him a squeaky little voice sounded. Then another squeaky little voice made reply. Little Mite didn't wait to hear any more. He scrambled down among those old cornstalks as fast as ever he could, calling at the top of his funny little voice. All unknowing, Farmer Brown's boy had brought him home safe and sound.

The Prospector

One of the surest ways to spoil a touring trip is to indulge in a daily mad dash to "make" some particular objective, according to the National Automobile club. After all, neither the health-giving nor the educational purposes of an outing can be gauged simply on a basis of mileage covered. Travel as easily and as comfortably as possible. And, if feasible, stop at the first sign of fatigue.

Camp Sacramento, the city operated vacation resort on U. S. Highway No. 50 near Lake Tahoe opens July 1, reports the National Automobile club. It is necessary that reservations be made at the city recreation department well in advance of the contemplated vacation, as there is a heavy demand for accommodations at this popular and attractive resort.

KNOW THYSELF

by DR. GEORGE D. GREER

WE HAVE no reason to believe that dull brains have fewer possible "networks" or brain cells than brilliant brains. It seems to be a matter of the number of connections that have been made. Perhaps the nerve current is somehow deficient. Laziness may spoil a brain that has good capacity. It was Edison who said that genius was about 5 per cent inspiration and 95 per cent perspiration. Great thinkers are prodigious workers. Has your brain ever been really pushed? Do you know what you can do with it? Do you let days and hours pass without making any new networks or thought-paths in your brain? Each new fact, new acquaintance, new idea means a new connection. You are building mental power.

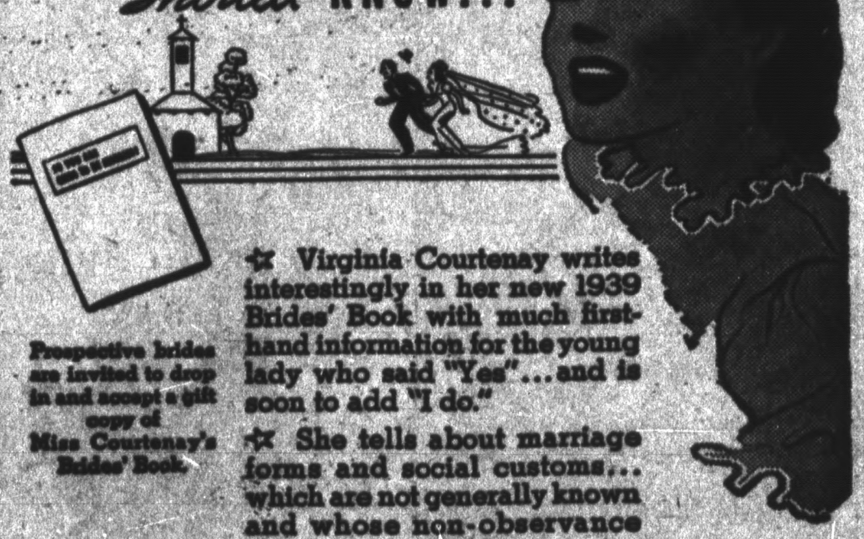
It's Never Smart To Be Inconsiderate

The 1939 bride may be ever so sophisticated, but if she's really smart, she'll be considerate, says Virginia Courtenay in her new Brides' Book.

It is being inconsiderate when a bride lets friends find out belatedly, second-hand, about something they should have had prompt and official information about.

Whether the wedding is large or small, Miss Courtenay suggests Art Point Marriage Announcements; the 1939 models are shown in the new portfolio at this office.

What a 1939 Bride Should KNOW...



Prospective brides are invited to drop in and accept a gift copy of Miss Courtenay's Brides' Book.

☆ Virginia Courtenay writes interestingly in her new 1939 Brides' Book with much first-hand information for the young lady who said "Yes"...and is soon to add "I do."

☆ She tells about marriage forms and social customs... which are not generally known and whose non-observance may prove embarrassing.
